WALNUT CREEK — Veteran Realtor Karen Henson of the J. Rockcliff Realtors Walnut Creek office has raised more than $4,500 for The Taylor Family Foundation after holding a special fundraising event in January.

The event, held in two full-capacity seatings, featured a three-course meal at Mossimo's in Walnut Creek and live music performed by lyric soprano Brett Ruano and tenor Doug Bryson in addition to a prize raffle and auction. The dinners were attended by other J. Rockcliff Realtors agents, brokers, managers, friends and affiliated businesses.

"The evening was truly magical," said Elaine Taylor, president of The Taylor Family Foundation. "I thank everyone who participated. The music was beyond outstanding, the food was delicious, the guests all appeared to thoroughly enjoy themselves and of course Karen was an incredibly gracious hostess whose meticulous efforts were clearly present."

"I was thrilled by the warm response and with the generosity of those who attended," said Henson. "It was a win-win situation for all involved. Participants were treated to a wonderful meal in gorgeous surroundings and got to enjoy camaraderie and some spectacular performances, all while helping a worthy cause. I always look to create mutually beneficial relationships with outstanding non-profits such as The Taylor Family Foundation, and I'm looking forward to holding another event very soon."

Henson has created her own organization, Henson's Event Partners, for the management and distribution of funds raised. The Taylor Family Foundation is also the preferred non-profit beneficiary for fundraising activities held by J. Rockcliff Realtors as a whole.
